

Fae

Magical beings that reside in the Faewild. They take on a wide array of forms, and are split into two groups - the Seelie and Unseelie. A large population of Seelie Fae live within Mogall woods, protected by a ward that causes those not welcome to the area to become "Lost".

The Progenitor claims to be the primordial version of a Fae, and wishes to destroy modern Fae.

"...I'm trying. I thought they wiped out my village for so fucking long, it's hard to let go but...gods. Jackson is my friend. We've been through hell and back together now, and he cares so much for the Fae. He's fucking dating one! I can't...I can't go through with what I thought before. There's fucking kids. They haven't done anything. So why, then? Why the fuck can't I shake that venom in my heart?"
