

Djerr'din Oman

He/Him, Was/Were

A powerful demon who served as Baphomet's personal debt collector. Wielding powerful, infernal magic from the hells, he arrived with a legion of demons to try and wrest control of Kayde back - even though, by the letter of Baphomet's pact with the Arcanian, they should have been free the moment Siebel had temporarily taken their life.

At the hands of Ninty, who used the most powerful expression of Tirial's might available to them, Djerr'din was shown an ultimate and final act of mercy: being given a true death that his kind could normally never receive.
